PRAYER AND SERVICE.

THE TWO BULES AGAIN DISCUSSED.

Second Day of the Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew-Three Interesting Sessions.

Yesterday was the second day of the first annual convention of the various chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew of this State. As on the previous day, the delegates met at 7 A. M. at St. Paul's church, where Rev. Hartley Carmichael, the rector of the church, celebrated Holy Communion.

It was nearly 10 o'clock yesterday morning before the delegates assembled in the large hall of the Young Men's Christian Association. Quite a number of additional delegates had arrived since the closing of the session, and the attendance K. Mason, Rev. Braxton Bryan, of Dan-yesterday was larger than on the previous morning.

After short devotional services, conducted by Rev. E. L. Goodwin, of Radford, the convention was called to order send a delegate to these conventions. The to overcome whole subject was then referred to a any of its advance of five, to submit a report this Mr. Rosewe

The discussion was then request by Major Robert Stiles, who spoke of the important relations of the Brotherhood to the Episcopal Church. He endeavored to make clear that the members of the Brotherhood are only private individuals, with no design whatever of forming a wheel within the wheel of the mechanism of the Episcopal Church. He had been very glad to see, while attending the reearnestly the bishops and the clergy had taken hold of the work. He felt con-vinced that this movement would spread among other denominations. He had already been asked by several Presbyterian ready been asked by several Pressystems ministers for information about the Brotherhood to ascertain whether a simi-lar organization could be established within the Presbyterian Church, There was nothing dangerous in the Brother-hood, for it had not the least idea of inerfering with the organized power of the

STAND BY THE CHURCH.

General Secretary John W. Wood pointed out that the Brotherhood would always stand by the Church. It was a true representative of the Church militrue representative of the Church min-tant of olden times. The Brotherhood had nothing to do with the canon, the Prayer Book or Hymn Book of the Church, but its only object was to bring men into the Church. He added that Bishop Potter had given the following definition of the three bodies in the Church: General Convention, the legislative body; Church Congress, the representative body; Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the aggressive body.

Rev. John K. Mason pointed out the existing differences between the Brotherand other organizations, and the lent gave some of his experience, and told the convention how he had been kept out of the Episcopai Church for e time, thinking that in that denomination there was no opportunity for a hation there was no opportunity for a layman to do religious work. Only when he became acquainted with the work of the Brotherhood he changed his opinion, and was glad that he had found a large anything else under the sun. THE INDIVIDUAL CHAPTER.

Mr. H. M. Castle, of Norfolk, spoke on the important relations of the individual that members of an organization might be chapter to the parish, the rector and the world. He refuted the erroneous idea that the chapter was organized for the purpose of running everything in the parit was only established on the two s of prayer and service. A great field for work for the chapter was to be found in connection with the Sunday-

Rev. Lewis W. Burton, D. D., of St. John's church, mentioned the fact that his church the Brotherhood of St. of St. Andrew was thought of. At pres-ent he had a chapter of St. Andrew working alongside of the other chapter, and he intimated that finally the two chapters would be morred luto one.

After the singing of the hymn "Nearer,
My God, to Thee," the St. Andrew Collect-it being St. Andrew's day-was said under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Stires. mittee who are to consider the question of holding annual conventions. The committee consists of Rev. R. J. McBride, of Lexington and Rev. H. M. Castle of Norfolk, representing the new diocese; Ma-for Robert Stiles of Richmond, Rev. John P. Tyler of Millwood, representing the old dlocese, Rev. Mr. Moore of West Virginia and General Secretary John W. Wood of New York, to represent West

Rev. Mr. McBride next spoke on the appropriate work of the Brotherhood, and especially explained the work of the embers of the only college chapter in

Barton Meyers, a member of St. Luke's Guild, in Norfolk, who had come here at the request of his rector, Rev. A. S. Lloyd, to become better acquainted with the work of the Brotherhood, spoke of its power outside of prayer, which he thought, humaniy speaking, was to be found in its organization and its young

Quite a number of stirring speeches were made by other delegates on the Council, made a brief address on how a work which the chapters of Virginia are essentially, and what, in addition, they may do legitimately.

At 2 o'clock the convention took a re cess for lunch, and repaired to the directors' room, where an elegant lunch had been prepared by the ladies of the several Episcopal churches in this city. AFTERNOON SESSION For an hour and a half the delegates | the dexology.

were kept busy in the temporary diningroom, where they were royally entertained by the hospitable ladies. Two large tables were arranged in the shape of the cross of St. Andrew, and in the centre was placed a large red cross of the Brotherhood, consisting of red dahlias and carnations. The tables were loaded down with all the delicacies of the season, and the members did the inviting viands full justice. The ladies were so well pleased with the result of their efforts that they will give another lunch in the same place and at the same hour to the delegates The session was reopened at 2:30 P. M.

by Rev. E. M. Stires, the second vicepresident. On motion of Rev. E. L. Goodwin, of Radford, the following was adopted:

"Resolved, That this State Convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew send its filial greeting to our venerable senior bishop, with an expression of our grati-fication upon his return to his diocese, and our earnest prayer for the further restoration of his health and strength." The committee appointed in the morning to consider the advisability of holding annual conventions submitted the following through Rev. Mr. McBride, which was adopted: Your committee beg leave to report that, in their opinion, it is not advisable at this time to recommend the holding of a State convention next year, but in lieu thereof make the following recom-

That James P. Harrison, of Danville; H. M. Castle, of Norfolk; J. Clifton Wheat, of Winchester; Dr. D. M. Brown, of Petersburg, and Rev. J. R. Newton, D. D., of Richmond, be constituted an executive committee, with authority, after corresponding with the individual chapters in the three Virginia dioceses, to decide upon the advisability of holding Inter-Diocesan Brotherhood Conventions annually or at other periods, and to call such conventions if and when and where deemed advisable.

COUNTY CHAPTERS.

Rev. Y. P. Tyler, of Millwood, reopened the discussion by speaking on the appro-priate work of the country chapters; their special needs and difficulties, and what they may accomplish. He was followed by Mr. Sturgls, of the National Council; Mr. John W. Wood, Rev. John K. Masson, Rev. Libert. gestions how city and country chapters could work together. He thought that in summer time country chapters might furnish some young men who were broken down in health and were unable by President Harrison.

Rev. R. J. McBride, of Lexington, offered a resolution providing for the holding of annual conventions, in which the chapters of Virginia, South Virginia and West Virginia are to be represented.

Rev. John K. Mason offered an amendment, which was accepted, to the effect ment, which was accepted, to the effect ment, which was accepted, to the effect of the chapters are all the difficulties of a country chapter to overcome without participating in the difficulties of a country chapter to overcome without participating in any of its advantages.

Mr. Rosewell Page illustrated the distressing condition and the needs of a parish which is too poor to support a minister. He thought that there was a minister. He thought that there was a field open for the members of the Brother-hood. Similar admirable addresses were made by Rev. John B. Newton, Rev. T. W. Jones and other delegates. On motion of Mr. Rosewell Page the fol-lowing was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of five clergymen and five laymen be appointed to take into account the need of the Brotherhood work in county parishes and consider the advisability of establishing and maintaining chapters of the Brother-and maintaining chapters of the books.

The committee was appointed as follows: Rev. B. M. Randolph, Rev. A. S. Lloyd, Rev. John K. Mason, Rev. Y. P. Tyler, Rev. Braxton Bryan, Rev. T. W. Jones, Messrs. James P. Harrison, W. U. Kennoh, M. Baker, Barton Meyers, Rosewell Page.

After some further discussion the convention took a recess until 8:15 P. M. EVENING SESSION.

The interest in the sessions of the convention has been increasing steadily since Thursday morning, and when the meeting was reopened hast evening the large half was nearly completely filled. The devowas nearly completely filled. The devo-tional services, which preceded the busi-ness session, were conducted by Rev. Scolly Moore, of Parkersburg, W. Va. Mr. James P. Harrison, the president of the convention, opened the meeting. On motion of Rev. Mr. Clopton, of Manchester, the St. Andrew Cross was indersed by the convention and each delegate requested to subscribe to it.

Rev. R. J. McBride made a highly in teresting address on the relation of the Brotherhood to Christian Union. He stated that the Brotherhood of St. Andrew would not be in existence now if it had not been for the Young Men's Christian Association The real founder of the Brotherhood, Mr James L. Houghtaling, of Chicago, at the time of its organization president of the local Association and a member of of the local Association and a member of the Brotherhood he changed his opinion, and was glad that he had found a large field for active work. He alluded to the idea expressed by Bishop Jackson to have the diaconate supplemented from the ranks of the Brotherhood, an idea which was entirely a new one to him, but which he considered to be a very good one.

After a few interesting remarks by Mr. John L. Alfriend, of Norfolk, on the subject, Rev. E. M. Stires, of West Point, pointed out the broad basis on which the communicant of the Episcopal church.

LOTAL TO THE CHURCH. Dr. McBride added that he had been a member of the Association for a number of years, and since the organization of the Rev. C. R. Kuyk, of Weddell-Memorial chapel, explained how there had always its members could consistently remain in the Association as laborers of the church without becoming unloyal to the latter. been more thoroughly inisunderstood than He felt gratified that among the members anything else under the sun. Dr. McBride closed his address by re-ferring to the testimony of Bishop Randolph, who had to say the following on the value of the Association: "The grow-ing strength and vitality of the Young Men's Christian Association among young men of all Protestant churches is ect of earnest congratulation for all in elligent and liberal-minded Christians. The organic expression of Christian unity which it furnishes to the world is of untold value in the education of the people into a practical recognition of that great principle. Its direct agency in the religions training of an exceptionally restless class of pupils is felt and acknowledged. with few exceptions, by all Protestant churches."

Major Robert Stiles followed with an equally interesting address on the same spbject, and Illustrated his remarks by some of his personal experience as to the importance of Christian union. He read a letter written to him by Mr. James L. Houghtaling, of Chicago, who speke of the various objects followed out by Brotherhood and the Association, and distinctly stated that both could very well exist alongside of each other.

Major Stiles added that the Brotherhood his opinion, had certainly as much of Christ in it as any other existing organiza-tion, but its wisdom was superior to that of the Association, for instance, because it ties itself directly to the church of Christ and remains under its direct con-

Mr. William C. Sturgis, of the National simple Bible-class should be conducted, and what they should do first and afterwards practically illustrated his remarks by conducting such a class, consisting of eight laymen, in the presence of the audience, which attentively listened until nearly 11 P. M.

On motion of Major Stiles, it was decided to hold the meeting this evening at Association Hall, instead of St. Paul's church, as originally intended. The session was closed by the singing of

THIRD PARTY MEETING

General Field and Mr. N. A. Dunning Speak-The Issues Discussed,

A meeting of the Third party was held last evening at Tholl's Hall, 700 west Broad street. There was some delay in the beginning, owing to the occupancy of the hall by a meeting of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. They took another room, and at 8:30 Mr. C. H. Pierson called the meeting to order, and introduced Mr. N. A. Dunning, of Washington. There were some fifty people in the hall, and half a dozen in the outside waiting-room, including General James G. Field, Third party candidate for Vice-President, and Mr. Grant, the same party's candidate for Congress in this district. These all received the speaker with much applause. He told them he was the editor of the National Watchman, of Washington, and that they must not expect any bursts of oratory, as he could talk as well to five as to 5,000 people. He said he thought that men who deand drawing their own conclusions ought to be deprived of the right of franchise and kicked out of his community. He did not come to discuss or abuse Republicans or Democrats either. He would give them the plain facts, and let them draw their own conclusions. He said the People's party movement was all over the country, and was not a local one. They are organized in forty-one States, and had regular nominations in thirty-eight States, with 5,000 speakers. He referred to the number of years the old parties had been before the people, and claimed that both had not come up to their remises.

had not come up to their promises.

The speaker went on to enlarge on the hard times and the number of tramps abroad, to the number of mortgages and debts over everybody at this time, and pointed his hearers for relief to the tenets and principles of the Third party. Mr. Dunning speaks earnestly, and held the attention of his hearers closely to the end of his speech, at 10:10.

Mr. Pierson told his hearers of the meeting to he held to morrow sight in Lordan.

ing to be held to-morrow night in Leader Hall, Manchester, and hoped they would all go and encourage the Third party people there. He then introduced Gen-eral Field, who was received with ap-

He said he did not expect to be there; that he was passing through the city from the Valley of Virginia to Waverly, where he speaks to-day, and heard of the meeting, and he came at once. He was filled with joy and gladness at the words of Mr. Dunning, and hoped they would be profited by his presentation of facts in such a clear way. General Field then proceeded to go over the same ground of failure of the old parties to help the people, of the poverty and distress, and going to the bow-wows, and all the rest of it, and like his predecessor in speaking, held up the Third party as the way out of the woods, and the salvation of everybody.

TO PREVENT CRUELTY TO ANIMALS. A Society Organized in Richmond-Officers Elected.

An interesting gathering of people of humane sentiments took place last evening at the house of Mr. W. Ben Palmer, 314 east Franklin street, and organized as society for the care of the dumb ani-mals of the city and community. There were present Mr. and Mrs. W. Ben were present Mr. and Mrs. W. Ben Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Tabb, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Woodbridge, Cap-tain A. B. Guigon, Mr. S. H. Hawes, Dr. Jud. B. Wood, Mr. J. B. Bensley and Mr. Ira Mowery.

The meeting organized by calling Cap tain A. B. Guigon to the chair and electing Mr. Mowery temporary secretary. The object of the meeting was stated by Mr. Mowery, and after some informal discussion of the range and scope of the work of the society the meeting returned to business, and the following permanent to business, and the following periodical officers were elected: Dr. Jud. B. Wood, president: S. H. Hawes first vice-president. Mr. Joseph Bryan, second vice-president; Ira Mowery, secretary, and Mr. George N. Woodbridge, treasurer. Dr. Jud. B. Wood, Captain A. B. Guigon, Major Robert Stiles and Mr. Ira Mowery were appointed a committee to Mowery were appointed a committee to provide by-laws and secure such legal enactments as are necessary to carry out the purposes of the society. Another meeting will be held at an early day, when the plans of the society will be formally adopted.

After a very pleasant enjoyment of the refreshments afforded by the hosts the gathering dispersed, with a feeling of having taken a long step in the direction of preventing cruel and inhuman treat-

Corpus. Major Boyd, a negro man, was released from the penitentiary yesterday by Judge

Wellford on a writ of habeas corpus. Boyd was sent to the penitentiary from the Hustings Court of Portsmouth for third conviction of petit larceny, the two first convictions being in the mayor's court. The point raised by counsel was that the two first convictions were illegal and void, as the prisoner was, accourt of appeals in the case of Miller against Commonwealth, entitled to trial by jury. The judgment of the hustings court being based on the two void judgments before the mayor's court was in itself void, therefore the prisoner was

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Bogus Two-Dollar Bills Arein Circulation in Richmond.

Counterfelt money is in circulation in Richmond. To what extent the town has been flooded with this bogus money no one knows, but true it is, that it is here. At one of the State banks three notes were detected yesterday, and two were refused at one of the national banks, and the indications are that the city is full of them.

The only denomination discovered yet is the two dollar silver certificates. The note is one of the series with the Hancock vignette, and it is easily detected by the very light print of the large red seal on the right-hand side. It is thought that a coun-terfeiting gang were in the city during the Exposition and put them in circulation

The information as to their existence comes from prominent officials in the banks where the bogus notes were discovered. The police last night had heard nothing of the matter.
